SFLC Executive Director Tim Paulson Elected Chair of the California Democratic Party's Labor Caucus

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26 – Tim Paulson was elected Chair of the Labor Caucus for the California Democratic Party on Friday, April 24, 2009.

The Labor Caucus is made of the labor members of the State Central Committee. Its purpose is to promote and encourage full participation by the labor movement in the Democratic Party and to initiate and support party policies and issues which reflect the interests and welfare of working people.

“I am honored to be representing the working men and women of California through my new position as chair of the Labor Caucus. I look forward to increasing opportunity and quality of life for working families through the work we do in this important Caucus,” stated Paulson.

Tim Paulson is the executive director of the San Francisco Labor Council, an organization representing over 150 local unions with a membership of over 100,000 working men and women in San Francisco. Tim has over two decades of extensive experience in the labor movement. He holds a bachelor's degree in economics and political science and has lived in San Francisco since the late 1970's. He currently is a member of the United Way of the Bay Area Board, AFL-CIO President John Sweeney's National Advisory Committee on State Federations and Central Labor Councils, the San Francisco State University Labor Archives Center Board, the City College of San Francisco Labor Studies Advisory Board, the Strategic Planning Committee of the California Federation of Labor, the University of California Center for Labor Research Board, Labor Project for Working Families Board, District Attorney Kamala Harris' Committee to Stop Recidivism, the Executive Board of the California Democratic Party and Mayor Newsom's San Francisco Disaster Preparedness Council, Universal Healthcare Committee and Open Space Committee.
